We're tickled (millennial) pink by the latest colour trend

This year's fancy millennial pink has been infectious. Raf Simons added a shade of candy pink mohair to his textile collection for Kvadrat, while Studio MVW used pink jade in its jewel-like coffee tables. The shade has also perked up furniture by the likes of Sancal, Emmemobili and Moroso, while Italian designer Cristina Celestino employed the colour in various projects this year, including a playful clear and pink glass set for Paola C. ✨
